

ANTI-PIRACY

As a service provider in the area of duplication and replication in the media industry, optimal media production bears a responsibility to ensure the legal integrity of its manufactured products. Under international copyright law, the production of sound and data media containing copyrighted material without the necessary licences is a punishable offence. Therefore optimal operates an Anti-Piracy Program as defined by the CDSA that is supervised by external auditors. (www.contentdeliveryandstorage.org)

CDSA (Content Delivery and Storage Association) is an association of companies in the media and software industries, which has committed itself to the establishment of a worldwide standard of anti-piracy measures. With this commitment, we protect your intellectual property and the valuable license assets of your products.

For this reason, we ask you to furnish us once yearly with a liability waiver and guarantee-declaration, in which you confirm that you are in possession of all necessary licences and rights for the duplication of copyrighted material.

Should your product be the subject of an additional random check, our licensing department will contact you. Please support us in these measures. We assure you of the utmost confidentiality and will only handle documents and information received in this respect internally.

Should you have enquiries, please contact our licensing department:
